

Choosing a Novel – Day 5

Name: _____

Check off each item when completed and turn in this form at the end of class with your prompt response.

- Quietly read your chosen book for approximately twenty minutes without sleeping, talking, or looking at your phone. Make sure you have read about 15 – 20% of your chosen book.
- Go back to page 1 of your book. Copy down the first sentence in the box below.
It is not always true, but more often than not, the very first sentence of a novel is very important.
- 1. On a separate sheet of paper, using the RACE methods for expository writing do you think that the first line of your book reveals important details about the developing plot? Explain why or why not.
- 2. Second, often the opening paragraph or opening scene shows a major aspect of the main character, or reveals a major personality aspect of the main character. What does the first paragraph/scene reveal to you?
Explain in detail.

Choosing a Novel – Day 5

Name: _____

Check off each item when completed and turn in this form at the end of class.

- Quietly read your chosen book for approximately twenty minutes without sleeping, talking, or looking at your phone. Make sure you have read about 15 – 20% of your chosen book.
- Go back to page 1 of your book. Copy down the first sentence in the box below.
It is not always true, but more often than not, the very first sentence of a novel is very important.
- 1. On a separate sheet of paper, using the RACE methods for expository writing do you think that the first line of your book reveals important details about the developing plot? Explain why or why not.
- 2. Second, often the opening paragraph or opening scene shows a major aspect of the main character, or reveals a major personality aspect of the main character. What does the first paragraph/scene reveal to you?
Explain in detail.