

College Readiness

Due Tuesday, September 04

Creation myths often generate metaphors to explain complex, unanswerable questions. Some quick examples: Where do humans come from? Who is God?

Notes are posted in the class for Thursday and Friday, Week 2:

<http://www.davidglensmith.com/Tomball/CollegeReadiness/index.html>

- 1. After reading the supplied Creation Myth assigned in class, follow the questions to complete your assignment. Consider:
 - What mystical, metaphoric phrases work to explain the unexplainable?
 - What values or morals do you want to stress to your readers?
 - What animal could represent the creative energy of your family?
- 2. Provide an introduction paragraph which shows your main character. Be sure to fully describe him/her in three to five sentences.

- 3. What type of conflict could they encounter in their story?
 - Briefly outline the challenges they will face.
 - What possible resolution exists to solve their conflicts?

- 4. Sketch a quick representation of your main character.
-