Reading Journal || Woolf

In her essay “The Death of the Moth,” Woolf utilizes multiple types of Modes: Comparison/Contrast, Cause and Effect, Narration, and Description.

- Based on your observations and previous lectures on the individual modes, which of the writing modes does she use most effectively? In other words, which mode stood out the strongest for you in the essay?
- Provide a quote and explain how it works.

You are required to respond in five, or more, sentences.
